Attached for your consideration is a summary the long-term stewardship project activities of the National Governors' Association, the National Association of Attorneys General, the Environmental Council of the States, The Energy Communities Alliance, and the State and Tribal Government Working Group.

*Jeb Bush

Each organization's project activities are categorized by project, policy input, and coordination/liaison functions. We hope that this document will be useful to the Department as you assess the various groups' interests and roles in long-term stewardship.
