

5th Annual Carson River SNAPSHOT DAY

A water quality monitoring event for citizens who care about their Watershed.

Saturday, October 16, 2010

9:00 am to Noon

Enjoy a Saturday morning outdoors on the river.

Participate to gain a better understanding of environmental stewardship.

Learn about the communities that are sustained by this watershed.

Teams go to assigned sites in the watershed, do a stream walk, take photos, and collect water quality measurements and samples.

Monitoring teams are guided by resource professionals and will promote stewardship and education.

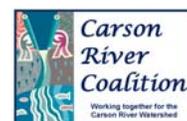

As a stakeholder in the watershed your participation will make this a more valuable event for the watershed and local communities!
