The Nevada Division of Environmental Protection’s Air Program and the Governor’s Office of Energy are hosting an online presentation and Q&A session on the federal grant award the State of Nevada has received through the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency’s Climate Pollution Reduction Grant Program (CPRG), future funding opportunities, and a proposed approach for public and stakeholder engagement.

Nevada has received funds from the CPRG, in part, to prepare a Priority Climate Action Plan (PCAP) that identifies strategies, initiatives, and projects that aim to reduce emissions of greenhouse gases and other air pollutants. Public and stakeholder outreach events will be held to establish meaningful and on-going engagement with all interested parties, especially low-income and disadvantaged communities, during PCAP development. Public and stakeholder comments to improve outreach and engagement efforts are encouraged.
